STEP 2

The SISY MOOC is a multilingual online course designed for youth workers who want to support young people with learning differences through sport. The course introduces key concepts such as ADHD, APD, and Executive Functioning Disorders, and provides practical tools for creating inclusive learning and sport environments. Participants will learn how to utilize sports to develop soft skills, explore inclusive mentoring strategies, and navigate the SISY digital platform. Upon completion of this MOOC, youth workers become officially certified SISY Mentors, eligible to be matched with a young person on the platform and support them throughout the SISY sports tournaments. If you want to become a certified mentor, enroll in the course below.
